Present Indications Are That

County Judge Traver Makes His Annual Report on Pistol Bureau Expenses

Although the annual session of the board of supervisors has not progressed sufficiently far as yet to make any close estimate of next year's budget, indications at the present time point toward a lower gross budget for the year 1939. Last year's gross budget was $915,950, less refunds of $54,674.96, making a net budget of $859,275.94. In all probabilities the 1939 budget will be slightly less.

At a short session of the board Monday evening the committee of county treasurer and sealer reported on the distribution of mortgage tax money. The total amount reported by the county treasurer was $6,485.74, which has been apportioned among the towns, villages and city of Kingston according to schedule reported several days ago. The committee, Supervisors Elston, Smith and McDowell, reported that the committee had found the amounts correct and on motion the board adopted the apportionment and directed that warrants be drawn. In the town of New Paltz the town share is $128.63 and New Paltz village gets $52.70. Rosendale town gets $132.46 and the village $16.26. Saugerties town gets $38.98 and the village of Saugerties $11.73. Shandaken gets $250.45 and Pine Hill $20.42. Wawarsing gets $325.18 and Ellenville $218.37. Other towns in which no incorporated villages lie the total amount apportioned goes to the town.

Three highway account bills totaling $22.88 for members of the grade crossing committee, were presented and ordered paid.

County Judge Frederick G. Traver made his annual report on expenditures by the Pistol Permit Bureau. An appropriation of $600 was made last year. There was a credit balance of $37.00 on hand making a total of $637.00 available. Total expenditures during the past year were $600 leaving the balance $37.00 in addition there were fees totaling $48.50 for permits collected by the bureau and turned over to the county treasurer.

Judge Traver in his report to the board suggested that the fee be increased to $1.50 instead of the present 50 cent fee for a permit. For several years past Judge Traver has recommended to the board that legislation be introduced and endorsed by which the fee could be increased. During the past session of the legislature after repeated recommendations he stated in his report the necessary legislation had finally been adopted largely through the efforts of Assemblyman J. Edward Conway whereby a Board of Supervisors may now increase the pistol permit fee to $1.50. This will make the permit bureau nearly self sustaining in the future. The report of Judge Traver was referred to the committee on county judge and district attorney.

Charity Accounting
The annual report of Eugene B. Carey, president of the local branch of The State Charities Aid Association, was received and referred to the committee on appropriations. The report included a request for an appropriation of $3,700 for the ensuing year. Mr. Carey reported that Mrs. Doremus for the fifteenth year had conducted the duties of the office in a most capable manner. At the opening of the year there were 172 children under her supervision and care and at the close

Laughs at 139 Years

The young man in an apparently hilarious mood is Robert Irwin, New York sculptor. He's shown between two deputy sheriffs just about to go through the doors of Sing Sing prison, at Ossining, N. Y., to begin a 139-year sentence for the murder of Veronica Gedeon, pretty artists' model, her mother, and a boarder at the Gedeon home.

Wicks Heads Public Service Committee

State Senator, of This City, Is Chosen at Republican State Meeting at Albany Last Night—
Sharp Differences Arise

State Senator Arthur H. Wicks, of this city has been named chairman of the Public Service Committee of the senate, according to an Associated Press dispatch today.

Sharp differences over policy, patronage and party control were revealed in organization of the Republicans, the report says, when the drive was opened to increase recent party gains by 1940.

Clashes in party sentiment, despite leaders' claims of harmony, were indicated in these developments at last night's organization meeting of the new Republican state executive committee:

Congress Will Get Department's Bid For More Attaches

War Group Would Double
U. S. Military Members in South America Countries
if Action Follows

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—The war department will ask Congress, it was learned today, to double the number of United States military attaches in South America.

The action follows a steady increase in Latin American military and aviation attaches in Washington, and in the number of special military and naval missions being sent from the United States to neighboring republics.

Because of lack of funds, the war department, now maintains only six military attaches below the Rio Grande. They are on duty in Argentina, Cuba, Mexico, Brazil, Chile and Costa Rica.

Some of these attaches are accredited to four or five countries, often widely scattered. They have little opportunity to familiarize themselves with military work in those countries.

The war department wants to increase the number of attaches so that no single officer will have to visit more than two countries. A special mission of military and naval officers will leave soon for Colombia to advise that nation's war department on defense problems. Requests from some other countries are expected to be granted soon.

Similar missions now are on duty in Argentina, Brazil, Peru, Haiti and Guatemala. Two Argentine naval officers are taking advanced courses at the Annapolis Naval Academy, and two Brazilian officers are receiving training at the naval air station at Pensacola, Fla.

The narrow margin of defeat for a resolution designed to block the seating of Kenneth F. Simpson, New York city, as national Republican committeeman from New York.

Stripping of considerable power from State Republican Chairman William S. Murray, Utica, through the unanimous election of Edwin F. Jackie, Erie county Republican chairman, as chairman of the executive committee.

Admissions of leaders that "we don't know" the probable receipt of $450,000 worth of patronage available to Republicans by their control of both legislative houses for the first time since 1932.

Opposition to the election of Simpson as national committeeman, led by an upstate bloc, was based on the alliances which he, as party chairman in New York county, made with the American Labor party in the recent campaign.

The movement against Simpson crystallized, despite leaders' pleas for harmony, in a resolution recommending that the national Republican committee, meeting in Washington today, postpone his election until another meeting of the state committee could be held.

An authoritative source reported the vote as 11 to 8. Simpson was nominated a year ago by the state committee to succeed national Committeeman Charles D. Hilles, resigned, but the national committee never has acted on the nomination.

Murray, announcing defeat of the resolution said "Mr. Simpson will go to Washington as our nominee for national committeeman." Simpson left immediately.

Grynszpan's Aunt And Uncle Given Terms, Pay Fines

Elderly Couple Convicted of Giving Asylum to Nephew
Who Assassinated E. Vom
Rath in Paris

Tell of Illness

Relatives Refuse to Turn Out
Youth, Because of His Illness

Paris, Nov. 29 (AP)—The aunt and uncle of young Herschel Grynszpan, whose assassination of Ernst Vom Rath brought down the Nazi wrath on the Jews in Germany, today were sentenced to four months' imprisonment and fined 100 francs ($2.50) each in a Paris police court.

The elderly couple, Abraham and Chana Grynszpan, were convicted of having given asylum to their 17-year-old nephew in their small tailor shop, after he had been ordered expelled from France as an undesirable alien.

Before the trial began today the French government had requisitioned all court employees who had been called out for tomorrow's general strike.

Young Herschel, who is held to face more serious charges arising from his shooting of the embassy secretary November 7, did not appear in court.

However, his chief lawyer, Vincent De Moro-Giafferi, defended his aunt and uncle.

Abraham Grynszpan and his wife both pleaded that they had kept Herschel at their home because he was ill.

In answer to the court's question as to whether they knew that Herschel had been ordered on August 15 to leave the country, the uncle replied, "Could one put a sick little child?"

"I say the same thing," declared Chana. "He was sick and I cared for him for a year."

Moro-Giafferi, noted defender in criminal trials, told the court that the shooting of vom Rath was "an act of despair."

The trial of Herschel is expected to be delayed for several months while the investigating magistrate makes a full study of the evidence.

Police kept back crowds who gathered to see the trial, which is preliminary to that of young Grynszpan. Only court officials and reporters were allowed in the courtroom.

The elderly couple, Abraham and Chana Grynszpan, are charged with having given asylum in their small tailor shop to Grynszpan after he had been ordered expelled from France as an undesirable alien.

Committee to Start

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—Two house subcommittees will get a head start on the new congress by working next week on some of the intricate appropriation bills for the 1939-40 fiscal year. Rep. Taber (R-N.Y.) senior minority member on the appropriations committee, disclosed today that one group would begin studying Monday a bill to provide funds for independent federal agencies. Another will start hearings Dec. 8 or 12 on supply bills for the treasury and post office departments. This advance preparation will make possible early house debate on the first of the appropriations measures.

Starts Long Hop

Los Angeles, Nov. 29 (AP)—Pilot Johnny Jones, in an 800 pound one-seater (Aerona) airplane, took off from Municipal airport at 6:31 a. m. (PST) today on a non-stop flight to New York. He expects to reach his destination in 28 hours. No plane of this size ever before has attempted a non-stop transcontinental flight. Jones carried 146 gallons of fuel, enough for 36 hours of continuous flying.

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—Arrangements were made today for the transfer of a New York Stock Exchange membership for $72,000, a decline of $3,000 from the last sale.

Zero Hour In French Labor Conflict Is Set for Tomorrow; Troops Are Ready

(By The Associated Press)

Labor-government conflict in France, where the deadline of a 24-hour general strike was approaching, today overshadowed temporarily the wars in Spain and China and claimed anxious attention throughout Europe.

Troops marched into strategic centers and all public services were placed under military control by the Daladier government attempting to head off the 24-hour protest strike set for 4 a. m. tomorrow (11 p. m., E. S. T., Tuesday).

"The fate of the regime and nation may be at stake," asserted Premier Daladier as he studied new means to prevent threatened paralysis of the nation's transportation, communications, public utilities and a large part of industry by the walkout called by the powerful General Confederation of Labor.

Roosevelt Sees Ambassadors

Silence and a whole lot of that was all reporters got from the United States Ambassadors to Italy and Germany following their conference with President Roosevelt at Warm Springs, Ga. "You will have to ask the president," was their comment on whether mistreatment of Catholics and Protestants as well as Jewish minorities had been talked of. William Phillips, ambassador to Italy, left a reporter who would sail for Rome December 10 or 11. Hugh R. Wilson (right), ambassador to Germany, would not say how long he'd remain in Washington, but balked at the word, indefinitely. The two are shown as they talked with the President.

Group Makes Plan For Local Meeting To Help Refugees

Bulk of Funds to Be Allocated for Jewish Relief; Committee Is Chosen at Meeting
Held at Bloom Home

Arrangements are now in progress to hold an emergency drive in Kingston within the next few days. While the bulk of the funds to be raised will be allocated for Jewish refugee relief, the sponsors state it should be whatever creed or color that the abuse of human beings by dictators is a threat to democracy, decency and religion.

A special meeting was held recently at the home of Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom on Main street, and Dr. Samuel Stern was named honorary chairman. Officers elected were as follows: Chairman, Joseph Levine, Joseph H. Forman; secretary, Joseph Forman; vice-chairman, Conrad Rabin; treasurer, Mrs. Al. Rabin; and a number of other members of the British royal family.

Windsors to Pass Yule Season Along Riviera

Paris, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Duke of Windsor and his American-born Duchess were said by members of the duke's entourage today to be planning to spend Christmas on the French Riviera.

There is no question, these friends indicated, of their spending the holidays in England and definite plans have been made for opening their chateau, at Cap d'Antibes the week before Christmas.

According to present plans it will be a "family" Christmas with perhaps a few old friends invited to stay with them in what English friends of the duke describe as the "American holiday spirit."

Current reports in Paris and London that the duke couple would return to England in the near future were denied.

These sources added, however, that this had no bearing on the increasingly friendly relations between the former king and other members of the British royal family.

Approval of a $20,000 road construction job in the town of Rosendale by WPA was announced today at the Albany office of Lester W. Horzog, State WPA Administrator. It is scheduled to start December 13 and furnish four months' employment for 59 men. WPA will contribute $12,947 for their wages. The road is known locally as "Mountain Road," a farm-to-market highway as well as mail and school bus route. The work will include widening, excavating and regrading.

Four other WPA projects just started in Kingston or Ulster county are set up to furnish winter work for about 150 men also taken from relief rolls. WPA will contribute $49,442 for their wages.

Kingston Project
The Kingston project provides for painting and repair of city-owned buildings, including the municipal auditorium, filter houses, pumping stations and tool houses of the city water department. It will require most of this winter with 30 men working.

In the town of Shandaken approximately two miles of farm-to-market roads will be constructed with WPA furnishing $22,843 for relief labor wages and the town providing $10,645 as sponsor's share.

Saugerties village has a tree stump removal and floor repair job under way with WPA supplying $5,000 for wages. The town has begun reconstruction of a second portion of Pine Grove road with WPA providing $2,789 for wages. Three bad curves are to be eliminated.

Treasury Receipts

Bids for Hurley School Opened at Public Meeting

Submissions Received on Five Different Contracts; Two Trustees Will Make
Awards for Work

The proposition to erect a new school building at Hurley, which has had rather stormy sailing to date, apparently was furthered last night when bids, which came within the amount authorized by the taxpayers of the district, were opened.

Bids were submitted on five different contracts and in order that the people of the district might know just what was going on the bids were opened at a public meeting attended by some 10 or 15 interested taxpayers.

Total low bids for the different contracts amount to $33,916.24, which is over $6,000 under the amount authorized for the construction of the building.

Awarding of contracts will be made by the two trustees, Joseph Armbruster and George Basso. Mr. Armbruster said this morning that the awards would be made as soon as possible, following an analysis of the bids, drawing up of contracts, etc., with the advice and assistance of Roscoe V. Elsworth, attorney for the district. As to when actual construction work will start will depend upon weather conditions.

The plans call for a four-room school building, with basement auditorium. It will be a frame building with brick veneer.

The following bids were opened at the meeting last night:

General contract—James Connel, $30,150; Ralph Hiller, $29,200; H. P. Swart, $25,000; Gus Ellson, $25,950.

Plumbing—W. Stauble, $3,350; Wieber & Walter, $3,158; Ralph Hiller, $2,475.

Heating—Wieber & Walter, $3,694; Ralph Hiller, $3,500.

Electrical work—Carr & O'Reilly, $1,750; Ralph Hiller, $1,600; M. Gallagher, $1,356.93.

General painting contract—Gillie & Osterhoudt, $876; Ralph Hiller, $500; H. Carle, $725; Storm & Robinson, $325.

Barge Employee Sought
Albany, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP)—Employees of a Texas Oil Company barge sought one of their number today after fire badly damaged the barge, a tug and part of the dock to which they were anchored. Meanwhile three Albany firemen were in hospitals suffering from injuries sustained when their truck collided with a New York Central passenger train as it sped to the fire.

Efforts Renewed
Chicago, Nov. 29 (AP)—Federal and state conciliators renewed efforts today to effect a compromise in the stockyards strike and to prevent extension of the dispute to meat packing plants. They brought the contending parties together for another conference (10 a. m. CST) in hopes of breaking the impasse that has halted trading in the livestock market for nine days.

18 Army Corps
Berlin, Nov. 29 (AP)—The newspaper Lokalanzeiger disclosed today that the German armed forces have increased from 14 to 18 army corps since the annexation of Austria and Sudetenland. There are now six army group commands, instead of three, the paper said. Reliable manpower estimates placed the standing army at 1,060,000.

United Airlines Craft Down
Off California Coast After
Battling 84-Mile-an-Hour
Gale Today

Plane Sighted

Coast Guardsmen Sight Ship
and Two Figures on Beach;
Pilot Loses Beam

Sau Francisco, Nov. 29 (AP)—A luxury airliner was smashed to pieces on a rocky ocean beach near here today after it had fought an 84-mile-an-hour wind en route from Seattle to Oakland, and finally was forced down on the rough sea when its fuel tanks ran dry.

Coast Guard headquarters here reported Pilot Charles Stead and Isadoro R. Edelstein, Los Angeles, a passenger, were rescued and that three other passengers and two crew members were missing.

Huge waves smashed the United Airlines 11-passenger "Sky Lounge" against the rocky shore at the foot of a precipice.

The Coast Guard report said the pilot and Edelstein were taken up a steep cliff by ropes, and that Stead "passed out" from injuries.

A report from O. C. Richardson, assistant superintendent of the U.S. western division here, however, said Stead "was OK, and walking around on the beach, but Edelstein was badly hurt."

Pilot Charles Stead of Seattle radioed about 2:30 a. m. that he was in trouble, but still knew where he was because the radio beam was functioning to guide him to Oakland.

He said, however, he had only 20 gallons of gasoline left, enough for five minutes' flight, and would alight on the ocean with "wheels up," or in retracted position.

Passengers aboard the twin-engined plane were:
H. L. Shonta, San Jose, Calif.
J. B. Heflbower, San Francisco.
Philip Hart, Portland, Ore.
Isadoro R. Edelstein, Los Angeles.

The co-pilot was Lloyd Jones, Seattle, and the stewardess was Frons "Bobbie" Clay of Alameda, Calif.

H. J. Sheehar, Point Reyes lighthouse keeper, said the waves bore the big plane onto the rocky beach and smashed it to pieces. "It's a total wreck," he declared.

The wreckage was wedged among rocks at the base of a cliff which towered nearly 700 feet. Coast Guardsmen, unable to approach the spot by boat, rigged lines and started down the cliff.

Pilot Stead, a veteran war time flier who at one time was a sensational barnstorming aviator, took off from Seattle at 3:30 last night.

He reached Portland on schedule, as well as Medford, Ore., where he stopped to await clearing weather.

Stead realized his situation when he cleared Point Reyes, and he managed his Oakland base.

"We pulled a flare and the shore is too rough; give us the wind!"

The base told him the wind had dropped to only 12 miles an hour at the Point, although a previous report said the 84-mile gale evidently had blown the plane 60 miles at sea before Stead was able to turn it again toward the shore.

At 5:29 a. m. Oakland told Stead:

"We're trying to contact you, you saw and ask them to follow you."

Gasoline Runs Low
Stead messaged his gasoline supply was perilously low.

"Boys, I haven't enough gas to make Old Crissy Field," his next message said. He referred to the field at San Francisco, inside the Golden Gate.

Major Stead, born at Griggsville, Ill., was a letter man in the mile and two-mile runs at University of Illinois before enlisting in the army. He made his first solo flight in 1918 at Foggia, Italy.

Mr. and Mrs. Stead have a 4-year-old son and an 18-month-old daughter.

Miss Clay was born at Garrison, Utah, but she and her parents moved to the Dallas, Ore., in her early childhood. She joined the United Air Lines three years ago. Jones, about 30, has a wife and two-year-old daughter at Seattle.

H. J. Sheehar, president of the firm, was born in Portland and has a wife and three children there.

Simpson Says GOP Must Get Rid of Reactionary Foes

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—Kenneth F. Simpson, liberal Republican leader in New York, declared today that his party must rid itself of "reactionary influences of the past."

Simpson made this statement as the Republican National Committee convened to canvass GOP election victories and formulate party plans for the next two years.

Simpson was assured of a seat on the national committee when the New York State Republican Committee refused yesterday to block his election.

He was accepted by the national committee this morning as the successor to Charles D. Hillis, who resigned. Also accepted for membership on the committee were William F. Knowland of Oakland, Calif., and Mrs. E. L. Moulton, of Albuquerque, N. M.

Regarded as one of the leaders in the liberal wing of the party, Simpson told reporters that the recent election returns "showed the people have left the president."

"But they will turn to the Republican party for leadership only if they are sure it is not under the domination of Mr. Hoover, the Liberty League or some of the reactionary influences of the past," the New Yorker said.

"If we turn them (ward reaction) we might as well fold up. If, however, we look forward and not backward and choose standard bearers from the wealth of fine, new forward-looking leaders that recent elections have brought forth we cannot miss in 1940."

Simpson said the Republican state executive committee meeting in Albany, N. Y., yesterday had not brought any rift in the state organization.

"There was much informal discussion among committee members today of a possible Republican presidential nominee for 1940. Names mentioned most frequently were those of Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Charles W. Bricker, recently elected governor of Ohio, and Robert Taft, Ohio Senator-elect."

Would Borrow More

London, Nov. 29 (AP)—Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, who this year put through tax boosts to pay for Britain's vast armaments program, told the House of Commons today he would seek increased borrowing powers in 1939 because of still greater war preparations. With the usual secrecy about budget plans, however, Sir John failed to give a hint whether taxpayers would have to shoulder a heavier burden next year. They already are paying a 2 1/2 per cent income tax and high levies on necessities.

Phantom Strikes Again

Hull, England, Nov. 29 (AP)—A stealthy slasher truck in another north England town today as Scotland yard was at work in Hull seeking a man who has terrified the town with 13 cutting attacks, mostly on women. Winifred Walsh, 18, of Platt Bridge, Lancashire, told police a man seized her in the backyard of her home and inflicted a five-inch wound on her arm. She said an unknown man had been sending her letters for six months.

Stocks Continue To Lose Ground

With total transactions on the Exchange up to 1,240,000 shares yesterday stocks continued to lose ground for the largest decline since November 18. No particular reason for the decline, despite the fact that business news was a bit better. Steel operations for the week are scheduled at 60.7 per cent of capacity, a drop of less than had been expected from the 61.9 per cent shown last week and comparing with 29.8 per cent a year ago. The French situation remains unchanged, but the foreign exchange market rallied sharply and there was further recovery in the price of gold.

The committee investigating the TVA was told yesterday that the authority's accounting practices in certain phases is "very unsatisfactory." R. N. Elliott, acting comptroller general, told the committee that the TVA had assumed the position of not being amenable to laws and regulations governing the audit and settlement of the authority's accounts by his office. The witness said that he questioned items totaling approximately $6,137,000 on the TVA's list of disbursements; originally the total questioned had been $18,791,000, but $12,000,000 of this had been passed and accepted finally.

Chesapeake Corp. stockholders approved plan to liquidate the corporation; capital will be reduced from $74,242,040 to $179,975. Further steps will be taken at a January meeting. Robert R. Young, chairman of Allegheny Corp., protested the plan.

Gerard Swope, president of General Electric, testifying yesterday before the Senate subcommittee which is studying the effects of federal tax credits to aid profit-sharing in industry, fully endorsed the principle. He said, however, that profit-sharing should not be in lieu of fair wages and that it must be accompanied by an educational program.

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—The stock market turned around today and recaptured a portion of its recently lost territory.

Gains ran to 2 or more points and transfers were at the rate of approximately 850,000 shares, with a few low-priced issues accounting for much of the turnover. Improvement was well maintained near the final hour.

Selected steels, rails, motors, rubbers, aircrafts and specialties were in the forefront of the right about. Oil, utilities and farm implements jogged along a narrow route.

Bonds were selectively improved while commodities slipped a shade either way.

Better acting stocks were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Great Northern, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Boeing, United Aircraft, General Electric, Westinghouse, du Pont, Allied Chemical and American Smelting.

Quotations by Morgan Davis & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, 15 Broad street, New York city, branch office 43 Main street, R. B. Osterhoudt, manager.

Children's Agent Doremus Files Report on Year's Work

The annual report of Mary C. Doremus, Children's Agent for the State Charities Aid Association in Ulster county, made to the Board of Supervisors Monday evening indicates the extensive work of the year which this association carries on each year in the county in its work to aid unfortunate children of the county. Eugene B. Carey, president of the Ulster County Committee, State Charities Aid Association, submitted his report and requested the usual appropriation from the Board to carry on this needed work.

While little of the work done by the Association comes before the public during the year because of the personal nature of the work, the annual report indicates the great amount of work which is done annually. Thousands of interviews are held by the agent, hundreds of cases are investigated and many cases involving the welfare of children are discussed with families at the office of the agent as well as in the homes.

In her report to the Board Mrs. Doremus acknowledges the assistance of doctors, lawyers, merchants, clergy and private citizens who have assisted in the work during the past year as well as the Commissioner of Public Welfare of Kingston and the County and Supervisors of the various towns. Relatives Back Home Hear $5-a-Minute Talk of New Yorkers

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP).—The wedding ceremony was in Paris, but the greetings and wishes (without the brides' wishes) occurred at the bride's dinner here, 3,600 miles away.

After religious and civil rites had united Richard H. DeYoung and Clarice M. Keenen, both former Rochesterians yesterday in the French capital, they came to the transatlantic telephone and talked with some 37 relatives and friends gathered here around a dinner table equipped with telephone and amplifiers.

For 25 minutes, at $5 a minute, the couple greeted the party and spoke with other relatives in Newburgh, N. Y., and Detroit who were on the same hookup.

"O-O-Oh, I'm so happy; everything is so fine," the clear but nervous voice of the bride said.

Mrs. George Elfsink, Richard's mother, asked if they were well. But Father Elfsink, undaunted by marvels of science, declared:

"Remember, Dick and Clarice, life is both sweet and sour."

The hookup was arranged by the bride's father, Owen Keenan, who talked with his daughter as did her sister, Mary, in Newburgh.

Artists in Eight by Ten Show

New York, Nov. 28 (Special).—The works of several Woodstock artists are being shown at the A. C. A. Galleries here in the second annual exhibition of the New York branch of the Society of American Artists Congress. The show is confined to works not larger than eight inches by 10 and so is called the "Eight by Ten Show."

The Woodstock group comprises Carl Fortess, who is showing an oil painting entitled "Dead End," Auslin Meeklen, a water color called "Landscape," Harry Gottlieb, a gouache named "New Jersey," Arthur Emptage, an oil painting entitled "Moor in Spain," and Yasua Kunyoshi, a colored lithograph called "Bathers."

Oil paintings, drawings, lithographs, photographs, sculptures and water colors have been selected from the works submitted by members. They will be on view to the public through December 19.

Quints Won't Attend

Toronto, Nov. 29 (Canadian Press).—Guardians of the Dionne quintuplets have decided the New York World's Fair will have to get along without the famous sisters next year. Premier Mitchell Hepburn issued a statement last night agreeing with Dr. Allan Roy Dufosse and Olive Dionne, the girls' father, in opposition to exhibiting the quintuplets to fair-goers. In North Bay, Dr. Dufosse said the amount offered for exhibiting the little girls was "considerably larger" than $500,000, but that the proposal never was discussed formally.

to attend today's meeting of the national group.

The resolution nominating Jackie, long a critic of what he has termed New York city domination of the party, was offered by State Chairman Murray, who had also held the executive committee chairmanship.

Murray offered the resolution after an attempt to oust him from the state Republican committee chairmanship as well as the chairmanship of its executive committee had failed.

The new, 11-year-old executive committee chairman, accepted his election with a statement bidding for support outside Republican ranks and assailing "one man rule or political dictatorship, either within or beyond our borders."

Elected with Jackie were Mrs. C. Lanning Taylor, of Oswego, as vice-chairman of the executive committee, and Miss Natalie Conch, secretary.

Meantime Jackie and Murray conferred with Percy A. Pletcher, scheduled for the Senate majority leadership, and Oswald D. Hook, speaker of the Assembly, on patronage.

With all indications the choice for the $10,000-a-year Senate clerkship was "still in the air," the name of William King, veteran assistant clerk, continued to get most prominent mention.

Meantime Pletcher said he believed seniority would rule the selection of Senate committee chairmanships.

On this basis, the important finance committee would be headed by Senator George Thompson, Nassau-Suffolk county veteran.

Other committee heads would include C. Tracey Stagg, Ithaca, taxation; Benjamin Feinberg, Plattsburgh, judiciary; Thomas C. Desmond, Newburgh, affairs of the city of New York; Mrs. Rhoda Fox Graves, agriculture; Walter Stokes, Cooperstown, excise; Joe R. Hanley, education.

Five minutes after he acquired his first job since early spring, Harry M. Wegman, 56, Rochester, suffered a fainting spell and collapsed. He was taken leaves in a yard.

Church Allowed To Sell Property

County Judge Frederick G. Traver has signed an order granting the application of the minister, deacons and elders of the Reformed Protestant Dutch Church of Clute, Esopus, for leave to sell real estate. Lloyd R. LeFever appeared for the petitioners.

Application was made to sell two parcels from the parsonage lot, one to Hudson Cole for $75, and one to Melvin Churchwell for a similar sum, the money derived from the sales to be devoted to repairs and improvements to the remaining property. The proceeds of the sales are to be turned over to the treasurer of the church. Application for the sale was made by the Rev. George Berens, minister, H. J. Story, Holt N. Winfield, Leslie Horvath, C. C. DuMont, Charles Warren, J. Hudson Cole, Oscar John and William K. Cole, elders and deacons of the church.

Controversy Ends

Warm Springs, Ga., Nov. 29 (AP).—President Roosevelt closed a long-standing controversy over sign-clearance in the national capital today by approving a $7,536,000 contract for low cost housing there between the United States Housing Authority and the allied dwelling authority of that city. A White House statement announcing the action said: "Washington, as well as the rest of the country, should feel proud as the war against the blight of slums moves forward at ever-increasing speed."

FRENCH SIT-DOWNS

France, where the sit-down strike originated, has been having more trouble of that sort lately. It was especially objectionable because the wave of "stay-in strikes," as the French call them, occurred in industries concerned with national defense. Thus not only were private property rights concerned, but the very safety of the nation.

The government therefore has been obliged to "crack down." Premier Daladier, governing temporarily with emergency powers, sent orders to the heads of all "departments" in the country, corresponding to our American states, to "put an end immediately to factory occupations."

It is obviously necessary to do that if France is to continue capable of self-government. The same principle holds true, of course, in the United States, Great Britain and other democracies. Free countries where the principle of private ownership still prevails can not allow any such confusion of ownership and suspension of property rights, and totalitarian governments would not permit such local seizure and control by any group.

Fortunately this issue, which first arose in America less than two years ago, now seems definitely settled both in law and practice. Property rights remain such, and human rights of workers are guaranteed by new procedure. As a result, we seem to be coming into a new era of industrial peace.

In France, however, the situation is uncertain and menacing. They may be drifting into another revolution there.

From the recent Berlin howls, we gather that all the other nations except possibly Japan and Italy are out of step with civilization.

A professional critic wants people to argue more about books and plays. But they've got to do so much arguing about politics that there's no time for that.

No "ham and eggs" for California, after all. The state will have to take 'em scrambled as usual.

What fanatics call their political "ideologies" are mostly idiocies.

Heaven preserve America from ideologies!

HEART FAILURE

We speak of a heart as normal or healthy as long as it is doing its work properly—pushing blood out as fast as it flows in. If there should be a leaking valve, an extra beat, some irregularity, any one of which is not normal, but still the heart continues to pump blood out as fast as it comes in, we speak of the heart as being "compensated." As long as it is compensated, the leaking valve, extra beat, and irregularity are not important. It can thus be seen that main question about the heart is "Can it pump the blood out as fast as it comes in?"

The first sign of a heart that is not able to do its work properly is what is called dyspnea or breathlessness, which begins to come on earlier or later from doing the same amount of work or exercise. Other early symptoms are pallor of the face and a slight swelling of the feet.

One of the most, if not the most, important symptom in early failure of the heart. The patient will notice that his breathlessness comes on with less work or exercise than before. A simple illustration of this is given by Dr. Harry L. Smith in the Mayo Clinic number of Medical Clinics of North America. "The most common exercise is walking, and the degrees of distress or breathlessness that this produces depends upon several factors such as speed with which one walks, whether route is level or uphill, whether walk is taken after a meal or when stomach is empty, whether the air is still or whether there is a strong wind, whether it is cold or warm, whether the patient is walking rapidly up a steep hill, on a cold day, against a strong wind, and at the same time talking, will produce breathlessness in most healthy individuals." The test then is simply getting out of breath sooner does, the same exercise under the same circumstances.

By recognizing this breathlessness as an early sign of a failing heart, the patient, by doing less exercise or work, learns to live within the power of his heart and so lives many years. It must be remembered, however, that other conditions besides a failing heart can cause difficult breathing or breathlessness such as (a) nervousness, (b) eating too much acid food—meat, eggs, fish, cereals, (c) nose being blocked, (d) chronic bronchitis, (e) overweight, and others. Is it skipping beat or is it murmuring? Is it enlarged, do you get out of breath easily? Send today for this instructive booklet by Dr. Barton entitled "Why Worry About Your Heart?" It tells the story of your heart in an interesting and simple manner. Send your request to The Bell Library, 217 West 43rd Street, New York, N. Y., enclosing ten cents to cover cost of service and handling, and mention the name of The Kingston Daily Freeman.

Chapter 22
Skeleton in The Closet

ADAM didn't speak for a minute, and I saw the dream fade reluctantly from his eyes. He shook his head, as if to rid himself of it completely, and when he spoke it was sadly, wistfully.

"There were no pulleys." A little sigh, like wind in the cornfields, admitted that we hadn't really believed it either.

"It was just an idea," said Mrs. Flower modestly. I saw Lou Orpington glance at her with grudging admiration. For it was a perfectly beautiful theory—infinitely more satisfactory than Lou's own. In fact I wonder if the murderer, later, didn't suffer untold rage of spirit for not having thought of it first.

The telephone announced itself again. Adam's astonishing legs carried him to the library door in about three strides. Again that unabashed silence descended upon us. Again I held my breath to listen and was aware that others were holding theirs. But I, for one, could distinguish none of Adam's few words.

He came out presently, looking dog tired. "It's just occurred to me that we're spending the night here and not getting anywhere. We may as well adjourn, I suppose." He paused, inspected every face. "Is anyone saving any little scrap of information? Anything you've forgotten to mention?"

Lou Orpington laughed rather artificially. "I hesitate to remind anyone," she said dryly, "that I was on the veranda when Anne was shot. I probably ought to see a lawyer before I go sticking my neck any further into the noose, and I don't know that I can tell you anything new."

She hesitated, but we were giving her rapt attention, and I suppose she had to take advantage of that.

"I heard the shot fired," she said slowly. "You thought it was a backfire?" Adam prompted her.

"I thought it was a shot. There was a car passing, but it was no backfire. I smelled burnt powder before."

"Where did it seem to come from?" she asked eagerly. "Somewhere out front. I'd just gone out, and I couldn't see very well. But a minute later somebody darted around the corner of the library and out of sight. I don't know where he'd been."

"He? A man?" "A man. He was all in white..." She paused, building up suspense. "In fact," she drawled, "I'm almost certain it was Charlie Spencer."

There was no use going on with it of course. We were deadlocked. Adam told them they could go, but no one seemed to want to make the first move. Mary Shaw simply sat, announcing to no one in particular that she had no intention of going.

"That's all right for you—you can sleep all day. But how about me?" her husband protested. "Afraid To Go Home"

SHAW started for the kitchen. Turned back and suggested weakly that Barney might like some coffee too. "All of us," said Mary Shaw firmly, making no move to rise. Barney stumbled after Shaw obediently, looking as if he were weary in his sleep. I noticed that he was rather white around the mouth.

"You'd better spend the rest of the night with us, Mrs. Orpington," I heard Elizabeth say. "You won't want to be alone. And how about you, Mrs. Flower? Did your husband go home?"

"I really don't know," said that lady brightly. "Aren't you the least bit worried about him?" Lou Orpington asked curiously.

"Worried? Oh no! Flower's a very clever person. He can take care of himself..." "No, Lou, you come home with me," Mary Shaw decided. "I'll be scared to death when Phil goes to duty."

In the midst of the amiable argument Adam strode off to the library. I wasn't sure whether he wanted me or not, but I remembered concealing my notes under the stair rug and I followed to find them for him.

Sundown Stories

By Mary Graham Bonner—Weary Christopher

"OH, I've had a dreadful time," cawed Christopher. "I'm simply exhausted. My crow voice is weary, my crow wings are weary, my crow beak is weary. I'm weary all over."

"I'm sorry," growled Jelly Bear. "We're sorry," murmured the cubs gruffly.

"I'm sorry," growled Honey Bear. "What was the trouble?" asked Willy Nelly.

"Well," cawed Christopher Columbus Crow, "it was all I could do to awaken them."

"You didn't have any trouble getting me up," growled Jelly Bear. "I was only having a little nap."

"A heavy sleep," cawed Christopher. "I was just dozing," said Honey Bear.

"A pretty good doze," returned Christopher. "I only had my eyes shut to keep out the sunlight," said Chubby, and the other two cubs, Jupiter and Blacky said at the same time:

"We weren't really asleep." "They were all so sound asleep," cawed Christopher Columbus Crow, "that I had to caw and caw and slap them with my wings and peck and peck them with my beak."

"You only had to touch us very lightly and we were awake," growled Jupiter, but as he spoke he tried to stop a yawn.

"My wings are weary from touching you very lightly," returned Christopher. "You mustn't exaggerate so much," murmured Honey Bear and turned her head so they wouldn't see that she too wanted to yawn.

She blinked her eyes hard to keep them open. "And then," sighed Christopher, "I had such a time getting them back here. Oh, but I'm a weary crow."

Tomorrow—"Another Nap."

Washington Daybook

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—By taking a nose dive into British economic and trade publications you get more of an idea why England was glad to take any step, such as the trade pact with the U. S., offering some offset against further German trade aggressions.

By a system of trade inventions that amaze the English, Germany is able to buy and buy and buy food, cotton and other raw materials, and sell her own manufactured articles to countries which England once considered her own customers.

An article in the London Economist points out some of the mechanisms by which Germany sews up trade. Suppose tobacco, oil and wheat are needed. All these are available in the Balkan countries. Germany offers to buy large supplies of these goods. She will pay aski marks, which are good only for purchase of German goods in return.

Maybe the Balkan countries don't like to be tied up to buying only German goods, so they object to the deal. Germany promptly offers to pay higher than the world market price. Farmers, eager for an opportunity to sell at a high price, insist that the deal go through. And since peasants in the Balkans outnumber everybody else, they have to be satisfied.

Powerful Persuaders

THAT leaves the Balkan banks loaded with aski marks with which they can buy only German goods. Now if a Balkan importer has been used to buying British shoes or fabrics or steel, he will be persuaded, instead to buy in Germany because the banks have to use up this German exchange. Thus Britain loses a customer.

There has been so much of this that the Balkans are loaded with aski marks. They can't spend them for anything except German goods.

And Germany isn't always willing to sell them what they want. The Balkans may want steel building materials. Germany, instead of wanting to sell toys and glassware, Yugoslavia was compelled to buy huge quantities of aspirin. Rumania bought thousands of typewriters, and Greece bought mouth organs by the hundred thousand.

Big Munitions Market

IN an effort to use up more of the growing supply of aski marks, many Balkan countries agreed to buy German munitions. Now why should Germany, engaged in an armament race, sell munitions? Simple, says the London Economist. Germany sells munitions which are growing obsolete for a first class power. They still are satisfactory for smaller countries.

Much of this same type of trade goes on with South America. Selling armaments to these countries is an especially good deal for Germany. It means that the countries which buy armaments from Germany must continue trading with her, because only Germany can supply spare parts and ammunition for the military equipment.

The London Economist is fearful that a tremendous source of minerals not yet developed in the Balkan countries will be opened up by German money and thus create for Germany a huge military asset which could not be cut off.

Some authorities in the commerce department here, however, suspect the estimate of the sources is excessive. But whatever develops, the Balkans at present are capable of supplying 20 per cent of Germany's raw material needs and there is little doubt that they will be swelled rapidly under German guidance and trade pressure.

HUDSON RIVER STEAMBOATS

These articles are written from the collection of George W. Murdock, veteran marine engineer.

No. 67—Splendid

It was 106 years ago that the steamboat "Splendid" was placed in service, (1832), and about 30 years later she was destroyed by fire; thus to the present generation this vessel is rather unknown.

Smith, Dimon, and Comstock built the wooden hull of the "Splendid" at New York City in 1832, and placed one of James P. Allaire's engines in her. She was only 172 feet long with a 22 foot breadth of beam, and she was rated at 297 tons. Her cross head engine had a cylinder diameter of 37 inches with a seven foot stroke.

The "Splendid" was built for a passenger and freight line running between New York and New Haven, remaining in this service for about 10 years. Later she was sold to Walter Millard and other persons of Portland, Maine, who placed the "Splendid" in service on the Hudson river in the year 1844. She was in operation on a passenger and freight line plying the Hudson river between Harrison street, New York, and New Hamburg and Marlborough.

Another 10 years of the "Splendid" was recorded on this route on the lower Hudson river, terminating in the year 1854. Some time in the year 1851 or 1852, the "Splendid" was rammed by the scow sloop "Globe" and sunk above the upper West Point dock. Soon after the accident the steamboat was raised and repaired, and later was returned to service on the New Hamburg line until the year 1854, as mentioned above.

Following her term of service on this route, the "Splendid" was purchased by a man named Scott and placed her on the Rondout and New York line, which made landings at several intermediate places along the river. During her term of service on the Rondout line, the "Splendid" was piloted by Captain Guernsey Bates, who in later years piloted the famous "Mary Powell" up and down the Hudson river.

Several years before the Civil War occurred, the "Splendid" was burned at the dock at Hoboken, N. J., and was never rebuilt. Thursday, December 1—History of the Sunnyside will appear.

Paw Paw, Mich., Nov. 28 (AP)—Two gunmen who delayed pursuit by disabling a state police car and kidnapping three men early this morning, eluded a highway blockade by state police and apparently were back-tracking their way into Illinois. The men abducted by the fugitives, Henry Matty, 45, Vicks, Mich., farmer, Claude McNis, 24, gasoline station attendant near Vicksburg, and Louis H. Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—Nothing is permanent in Hollywood—not even destruction.

Today painters were at work and the street of brownstone fronts soon will be better than new. Ready, indeed, for another decade of service to stars and stars-to-be who will ascend their steps and enter their doorways and, unless they're careful, break their silly necks falling into space on the other side.

This set, exposed to cinematic snows and rains and sunshine—and real California weather—day in and day out since Corinne Griffith first adorned it more than ten years ago, had received its coup de grace in "The Sisters." Bette Davis, fleeing from the San Francisco earthquake, paused briefly in a shattered doorway and the brownstone front, as though bowing to the inevitable, was left with a permanent sag.

BUT Warners, preferred to spray with paint rather than tear. The street still serve time before the cameras.

Notre Dame Cathedral, however—as though to contradict our opening generality—is gone forever. For 14 years it has stood, weather-beaten but serene, through several changes of Universal management and through a couple of generations of stars. It outlived the star, Lon Chaney, for whom it was originally built, and it outlived the executive reign of Uncle Carl Laemmle, who built it for Chaney's "Hunchback of Notre Dame."

The cathedral went to make way for the New Universal's improvement program. Even this epochal clearing-out, however, has left the Phantom Stage, since Notre Dame's demise the granddaddy of all movie sets.

THE Phantom Stage—so called because Lon Chaney horrified it as "Phantom of the Opera," in 1925—has merely had its face lifted and modernized. It is, perhaps, the most useful of all Hollywood sound stages, boasting a full-size opera house, complete with balconies and boxes—plus a swimming pool beneath its removable floor. This pool easily becomes, under an art director's hand, an outdoor plunge with shrubs and trees about and just as easily can be hidden while the opera takes over.

Tradition, however, means little in the practical market wherein studios barter and trade for standing sets. A steamship set, and the newer the better, soon pays for itself in rentals to other studios—at a neat rate of $1,000 a day. Paramount once had the ship market to itself, but its liner soon became outmoded and was razed.

The value of railway property after allowance for depreciation, according to the Interstate Commerce Commission, is two billion dollars greater than the total amount of stocks and bonds in the hands of the public.

Here lies the body of Susan Jones, Resting beneath these polished stones. Her name was Brown instead of Jones.

The farmer still has some freedom. There is no federal restriction on his persimmon crop.

There are doubtless others: The new recruit was quite homeless. Everything he did was wrong, and as he would, his drill was just awful. The infuriated M. C. O. in charge of the squad had tried everything he knew. Now he could stand it no longer.

Officer (roaring)—What were you before you joined the army? Recruit—Very happy, Corporal.

Pathetic figure the city woman discovering in far away places that bread does not come already sliced.

When you're in Rome, you know: An American, spending a holiday in Paris was endeavoring to work off some of his French in a cafe.

American (after a lengthy study of the menu)—Garçon, je de sir Consomme Ruyal et un piece of pang et bourr. 'No! Un piece of bang.

Waiter (helpfully)—I'm sorry sir, I do not speak French.

American (snapping)—Very well, send me someone who can.

Observation by the late B. Franklin: To get a person interested in you, let him do you a favor.

What we want to know is, did he make or lose? And then there was a Wall Street broker who met another of his ilk on the street the same afternoon.

First broker (sympathetically)—You look blue.

Second broker—Well, I just left my doctor's office and he says I got diabetes. Me, with diabetes at 43!

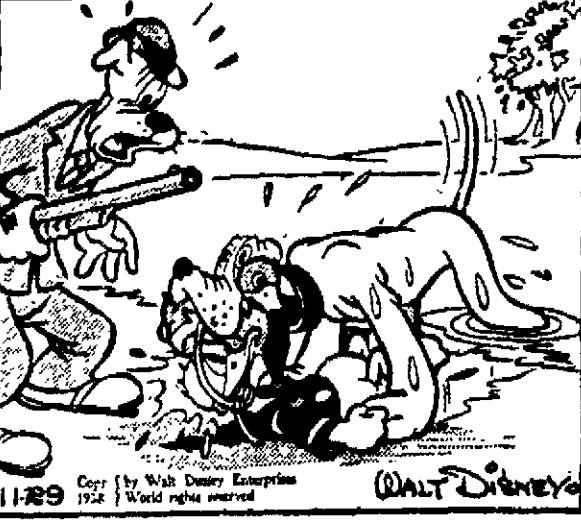

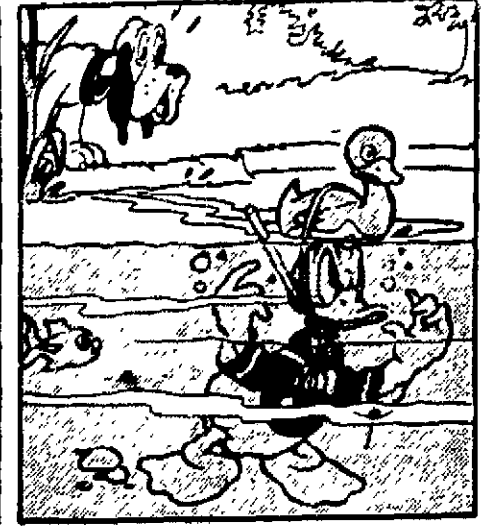

First broker—You should worry. I got Radio at 114.

Prosperity and peace must be around the corner: Zeke Hubbard, Floyd county, Ky., backwoods trapper, was riding in a railroad car for the first time. Right in front of him sat a bald-headed man reading a newspaper. He was pretty "thin on the top," but there was a good fringe of hair around the base of the head. The man was scratching those lower regions vigorously from time to time, it appeared as if he would never get done scratching. The old trapper, much interested in the operation, leaned forward and said in a confidential way: "That's right, stranger, that's right. Chase 'em up inter the clearin' an' then yer kin ketch 'em easier."

Patient—Has it come to the worst Doctor? Doctor—Not yet. I'll mail the bill tomorrow.

NEW YORK—The big dice games continue to float through the skyscraper hotels, the same sort of games the movies made so much of after Arnold Rothstein, the gambler, was killed. Tonight they are in this hotel, tomorrow in that, but never in the same place two nights running. No one knows until a few hours before they get underway where they will take place, and then the word is whispered around in the mysterious grapevine always in operation on games of chance.

They do not toss for chicken feed in these games. The stakes are high and the game is, outwardly, at least, a gentleman's game. Only those whose credentials are established are ever permitted to venture within a city block of the hotel. This means that you have established yourself as a man who (A) can keep a close mouth, and (B) your financial backing is sufficient to guarantee any loss which might occur.

That is why in big games today a man's I.O.U. is as good as gold. They will always trust you—once. What their reaction to welching would be I do not know. Maybe they would kill you but I doubt it. The day when the boys arrived for play with 4's under their arm-pits has, I think, largely disappeared. The killers are getting too tough a deal in this modern New York. But they could make it very unpleasant indeed if you walked out on an obligation.

You hear now and then of extraordinary games where hundreds of thousands go across the boards. Do not place too much truth in these legends.

DICE and cards is the usual formula. There are various clubs where all forms of casino gambling are observed, and for very high stakes, but for the wildcat games, the boys like to get down to poker and craps.

New York has its modern Rothsteins and its Get-Rich-Quick Wallingfords, but they are not the devil-may-care adventurers of fiction. They are shrewd, hard-bitten men who will weigh a deuce as carefully as a sourdough ever nursed a secret nugget.

They play the percentages and leave inspiration to the hunch players who frequently go big for awhile—and then trail off into the wind.

Gambling today is as big and as vigorous as ever. But it isn't for fun. It's the one thing I know of where a sense of humor is out of place.

Freighters Damaged
Barcelona, Nov. 28 (AP)—Two British freighters, the Stanwell and Stancroft, were damaged today when five Spanish planes raided the port of Barcelona. No casualties were reported. The Stanwell was hit squarely by a bomb which pierced her forward deck and exploded below, wrecking her forecastle and a hold. The Stancroft was peppered by bomb fragments.

Agitation Is Blamed
Budapest, Nov. 28 (AP)—Reports from the Rumanian city of Timisoara (Temesvar) today attributed a theatre blast there to anti-Jewish agitation. One dispatch said 10 persons were killed and more than 40 wounded in an explosion yesterday while a company of Jewish actors was given a performance.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Love's Labor Won
Kokomo—Boys and girls who may have dreamed of the school burning down didn't let it happen when the test came.

When the Darraugh Chapel Consolidated School caught fire, pupils formed a bucket brigade and kept the blaze under control until firemen arrived and saved the building. The damage was $3,000.

The Deerslayer
Titusville, Pa.—Big game hunter Jack Sterner found a new thrill with an old weapon.

Sterner, wearied of modern rifles after he brought down a bear and seven deer. Before the season opened this year, he bought a massive long-barreled muzzle loader of Civil War vintage for $12.

It failed to fire the first three times he pulled the trigger. The fourth time it delivered—by knocking over his eighth deer.

Friends Indeed
Salt Lake City—Claude A. Engberg, 31, was arrested for reckless driving, his trial set for hearing before Police Judge Reva Beck Bosone.

Judge Bosone, declining to preside because of a distant marital relationship, referred the case to City Judge Bryan P. Leverich.

Judge Leverich, declining because of personal friendship, referred the case to Presiding City Judge Albert H. Elliott.

Judge Elliott, also declining because of friendship, referred the case to Judge Bosone.

Now they're waiting for City Judge M. J. Bronson, who has been ill, to return to the bench.

Third Time Charm
Salmon, Ore.—Salmon police arrested a man fitting the description of one wanted in Kelso, Wash., on an assault charge.

Then they picked up a second who gave the name of the accused. A third was picked up because he was with the other two. A Kelso policeman identified the third as the wanted man.

It is well to listen to advice but not always wise to act in accordance with it.

Two Millions Now In Refugee Fund

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—In one of the most remarkable responses ever made to appeals for the aid, American Christians and Jews in a little more than two weeks have showered at least two million dollars on agencies for relief of German refugees.

This estimate was made today by responsible officials of various drives on the basis of results in leading cities. The bulk of the donations have gone to the American joint distribution committee, which has a record of 20 years experience in Jewish relief activities in Europe. It is also the chief contributor to the national coordinating committee for aid of German refugees, an affiliation of 24 Jewish, Catholic and Protestant relief organizations. Contributions began pouring in a few days after the November 10 raids on Jewish shops in Germany, when the full extent of the anti-Semitic measures were verified. Since then the joint distribution committee has received about $400,000 in Greater New York. Nearly an equal amount has been received by other agencies. A special campaign in Philadelphia raised $400,000 the first day and closed with $610,000, well over a $500,000 quota. Cincinnati exceeded a $230,000 quota by $45,000. Tulsa, Okla., and Charleston, S. C., went well over quotas of $40,000 and $8,000 respectively. Bayonne, N. J., with a $15,000 goal, raised $25,000. Scheuectady, N. Y., hit $27,000—$2,000 over. The distribution committee, which has spent about $5,000, on the education, rehabilitation and travel expenses for German Jews in the previous five years, expects to raise an additional $1,000,000 as its total for this year alone. A separate campaign launched Sunday by the United Palestine appeal is seeking a $10,000,000 fund for settlement in Palestine of 100,000 German Jews. Over and above these amounts, officials of the distribution committee said thousands of Americans are privately taking care of from one to a score of Jewish refugees already in the United States.

In "The School of Tomorrow" at the New York World's Fair, 1939, visitors will be able to watch the actual functioning of pre-school and elementary classes, polarized glass screens making it possible for the children to be observed without knowing it.

Social Security Office Explains Holiday System

Many workers who have not been employed in occupations covered by the Social Security Act, will find themselves eligible to future benefits under the old age insurance features of the act when they become employed as extra help during the Christmas holidays. It was stated today by John Form, manager of the Kingston field office of the social security board.

Housewives or students who take part-time work in department stores are covered by the old-age insurance features of the act, Mr. Form stated. Deductions should be made from all such salaries, under treasury regulations, and the total earnings of part-time employees should go toward building up wage credits and eventually count toward future benefits. All workers taking part-time positions during the coming Christmas holidays were advised to remember the following important points: It is necessary to have a social security account number. The social security account number should immediately be reported to the employer. It is necessary to have a social security account number, if you are the only employee, and work as little as one hour a week for your employer. Any employee who is in urgent need of a social security account number may secure one immediately by visiting his nearest social security field office where over-the-counter service will be given to him.

Hopes to Collect
Utica, N. Y. (AP)—James A. Corbin, New York Mills monument contractor, hopes to receive $37 from Oneida county for a headstone which probably never will be erected. The county, Corbin said, ordered him to furnish a headstone for a grave in a Broomfield cemetery. When he went to erect it, he found a private headstone already placed there. Cemetery officials refused to permit erection of the second headstone, Corbin said.

Gets Fellowship
Averett, N. Y. (AP)—Harvey Conner, Averett, a graduate of Alfred University's College of Ceramic, has been awarded the 1938 New York State Brick Manufacturers' Association Fellowship. His work will include inspection of brick plants and research work at the Alfred experiment station. The association has appropriated $2,000 for the work.

French took the examinations successfully. The mayor appointed him again. The council confirmed it again.

Women Make Food Tour

Buffalo, N. Y. (AP)—A group of Buffalo women is "touring the world" in food. In October they dined at a restaurant serving Mexican foods. This month they ate Polish food. In December they will dine at a Swedish restaurant and in January they expect to taste Hawaiian cookery. A public school domestic science teacher is making the arrangements.

Leftover suggestion: Mix together two cups each of turkey, celery and orange slices. Add a few toasted almonds, half a cup of French dressing and some salad greens.

Ulster's Budget Might Be Less

of the year there are 140. She has collected to the credit of the public fund the sum of $5,951.08, nearly $100 more than last year. The expenditures for the year have been $606.36 and there is a balance at the end of the year of $5,344.72. The financial report was made by Judge Joseph M. Fowler, treasurer.

Application for an appropriation for the purpose of hiring a salaried service officer to aid veterans and their dependents in getting relief to which they may be entitled was received from the Ulster County American Legion under signature of John Lowther, committee chairman. The last legislature granted the Board of Supervisors of a county the right to make such an appropriation and provides that the cost of such an officer may be levied against the taxable property of the county. The request and communication was referred to the committee on appropriations.

Bid for Fund

A communication was also received from the Central Business

Men's Association asking the board to consider an appropriation of $5,000 to be used to advertise the county of Ulster among the estimated millions who will attend the New York World's Fair of 1939. The last session of the legislature provided that a county may make such an appropriation to advertise the advantages of a county. The request was made over signature of Harry Walker of the association. This communication and three other similar requests were referred to the committee on appropriations. The citizens' committee of Kingston and the Walkill Chamber of Commerce favored such an appropriation and the Woodstock Cheats and Swings expressed their approval and suggested that this rural dance team be employed in square and old fashioned dances to advertise the county. The latter stated that the Cheats and Swings had danced for Governor Lehman, President Roosevelt and also danced at the Central Park festival to promote interest in Ulster county as a recreation center.

A financial report was submitted from the Ulster County Fair Bureau together with a request for an appropriation of $4,400 for the ensuing year. This is the amount granted for 1938. Referred to committee on appropriations.

The Ulster County Home Bureau also submitted its annual financial statement and asked for an appropriation of $3,000, the same as last year. Referred to the committee.

A communication containing a financial statement and a request for $3,500 was received from the 4-H Club Association of the county. The communication stated that there had been several changes in agents during the past and as a result the membership had dropped slightly, but last year the membership among boys and girls of the county was increased and there were now 468 rural boys and girls engaged in various work and projects. The report also called attention to the fact that a new car was needed. Last year the 4-H was granted an appropriation of $2,500. Referred to committee on appropriations.

Letter From Granges

In connection with the request for an appropriation by the 4-H Clubs there was a letter from the 14 Granges in the county endorsing the 4-H work and asking that the request for an appropriation be met. The committee representing the Granges asked that the request for $3,500 be allowed. This communication was referred to the committee on appropriations.

A report of the work of Dr. H. P. Fleming, county veterinarian, was received together with a report on the financial condition of the bovine disease control committee. The total receipts for the year were $2,497.97, including the $2,000 appropriation granted last year. The expenditures were $2,457.57. The committee, Supervisors Deane, Wadlin and Grimm, reported a request for an appropriation of $3,400 for the year 1939. Referred to committee on appropriations.

Clerk Stang announced a meeting of the committee on salaries for Wednesday at 3 o'clock. This committee is Supervisors Fargason, Van Wageningen and Keogh. A meeting of the committee of Tuberculosis Hospital and Laboratory will also be held Thursday, December 1, at 12:30 o'clock, at the Tuberculosis Hospital. This committee is Supervisors Van Wageningen, Howe, DuBois, Fargason, McCord and Judge Joseph M. Fowler, honorary member.

Supervisor Dean of Denning moved that there be raised on the town the sum of $47.51 to pay interest on certificate of indebtedness.

All supervisors were notified to get in their bills for services by Wednesday evening, next, and the board adjourned on motion of Supervisor Wadlin until that time.

6 Persons Hurt At Grand Central

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—Six persons were injured, none seriously, when a streamline electric engine pulling the Owl, New Haven Railroad Boston express, was derailed as it left Grand Central Terminal, early today.

The accident in the Park avenue tunnel at 51st street delayed the departure of the Narragansett, another Boston express, four hours.

The Owl, made up of sleeping cars, was pulling out of the upper level of the terminal when the engine sprang across two adjoining tracks.

The injured, all of whom were treated by physicians at the terminal, were:

C. R. Sloane, New York city, wrenched back.

Mrs. B. Brown, Brookline, Mass, head contusions.

Thomas D. Thompson, Ridgefield, N. J., head lacerations.

Alfred Kaplan, Boston, lacerations of the chin. (He was shaving when the engine was derailed.)

Thomas Vinoli, Jr., New York city, wrenched neck.

Railroad officials said the accident probably resulted from a defective tie, the examination showing nothing wrong with the engine.

Painting the buildings of the New York World's Fair, 1939, which is being carried out in a plan following the tints of the rainbow, will require a total of 200 tons of pigment.

"You and I" To Have Additional Performance

Due to advance ticket sales and conflicting engagements, an additional performance of "You and I" will be given Thursday, December 8, as well as on the 10th. This initial offering of the Ulster County Theatre Association was a Broadway hit for six months. It is a fast moving comedy of American life, requiring no shifting of scenery. For this reason, intermissions will be only five minutes in length. Above is the cast for "You and I." Standing are David Pennington as the juvenile and Marion Farrell as the ingenue, who provide the romantic interest, and Robert Flynn, who is a cosmopolitan who plays the leads, and Peter Minasian, who is the jovial business man. The author, Philip Barry, one of America's most famous playwrights, is a resident of Mt. Kisco, N. Y., and has penned such well known hits as "Holiday," "Animal Kingdom," "Hotel Universe" and "Spring Dance." His latest play, "Here Come the Clowns," will have its Broadway premiere December 7, which may interfere with his acceptance of the invitation extended to him by the county theatre to be engaged in an occupation other than the one into which circumstance has forced them. The play presents a family attempting to solve this problem. Much of the humor of the play arises from the many amusing situations with which they are confronted in pursuing their fancies. The play will be given in the high school auditorium, curtain at 8:30 p. m.

Make Old Chairs New With Slip Cover Magic

Cut and Fit Easily Yourself. Who'd ever guess this trim slip-covered chair was yesterday's shabby apology? So smart it is now in rich blue cretonne, its gay floral design centered on back and seat. Attractive, too, the frilly ruffle, the welled seams in contrasting color. No pattern's needed—just fit your cover the pin-on way and follow simple tips. Smooth the cheery fabric down back and over seat—wrong side out for welled seams. Anchor with pins, one row across top, rows of pins down the sides. Cut, allowing 1 1/2 inches for seams. Similarly, pin and cut sides, arms, back.

Those rounded corners on back and arms where the material bulges? Take tiny darts as the diagram shows. To give that professional finish, trim seams with welting (covered cord). Slip welting into seams as shown in diagram and stitch from wrong side.

Get complete instructions and diagrams for slip covers from our 32-page booklet. Shows how to fit all kinds of chairs and sofas the pin-on way. Explains cutting, fitting, finishing. Attractive color schemes, fabrics, trimmings.

Albany Diamond Belt Champs on Friday's Program

All Star Card

Perry, Armstrong, Raigins Are Diamond Belt Titlists Matched for Auditorium Bouts on Friday

Two Kingston boxers, Sergeant Charley Perry and Monk Armstrong, and Charley Raigins of Saugerties, won Diamond Belt titles in Albany Monday night, and will appear on the boxing card in the municipal auditorium Friday.

Sergeant Perry won the light heavyweight title by knocking out Hank Yazowski, rugged Polish pounder from Rome, in the second round. A dynamic right on the button dumped Yazowski into the resin. Perry tossed him over his shoulder and carried him to the dressing room where it took 15 minutes to revive him.

Sergeant Perry
Monk Armstrong won the middleweight title by outpointing Red Van Alstyne, last year's champion, in a thrilling three rounder during which he had Red down for the count of nine in the second frame. They'll meet again Friday in Kingston on Van Alstyne's request.

Monk Armstrong
Charley Raigins carried home the featherweight honors in the diamond belt tourney by pasting Leo Litz around for three rounds, decisively outpointing the Albanian. Raigins is paired with Max Caprotti of Kingston for five rounds in the Auditorium Friday. His match has been the talk of the fans for some time.

Charley Raigins The Champions
The full list of championship winners last night follows:
Sergeant Perry, Kingston, light heavyweight; Monk Armstrong, Kingston, middleweight; Vince Sempervino, Albany, welterweight; Manuel Roosa, Albany, lightweight; Charley Raigins, Saugerties, featherweight; Dom Perfetti, Amsterdam, bantamweight; Vic Rodrigo, Amsterdam, light weight.

capital, formerly of New York, badly defeated none other than the Kingston favorite, Carmine Fatta of Newburgh. Dom Perfetti was a sensational winner and so was Vic Rodrigo his stablemate from Amsterdam.

All of these boys are booked for Kingston Friday night. The card follows:
Sergeant Perry vs. Henry Jones, the New Yorker to whom he lost once and then boxed in a slow five rounder, thereafter Perry is out to even the score, and hopes to do it by a knockout.
Monk Armstrong vs. Red Van Alstyne. This bout promises plenty of fireworks.
Vince Sempervino vs. a suitable opponent from New York.
Manuel Roosa vs. Carmine Fatta. These boys are even. Fatta won in Kingston last week and Roosa defeated him for the Diamond Belt title last night. Both are anxiously awaiting the opening gong Friday.

Duke Going to The Rose Bowl
Los Angeles, Nov. 29 (AP)—It's Duke, the rock of the Southern Conference, and Southern California, survivor of a bitter grid campaign along the Pacific, in the Rose Bowl battle January 2.

Concluding in six hours negotiations that usually take a week or more, Southern California last night invited the Blue Devils of Durham, N. C., to play in Pasadena's annual post-season game, and Duke lost no time accepting. Never before in the 23-year-old history of the far west classic has one of Duke's teams played in the rose-bordered bowl.

Just as there is celebrating in North Carolina, so is there gloom in Texas and a wail for every rebel yell echoing over Tennessee, for Texas and Tennessee had unbeaten, untied Rose Bowl candidates, too, in Texas Christian and the University of Tennessee.

Sentiment was high here in favor of little Davey O'Brien and his T. C. U. Horned Frog mascot; Tennessee had a growing delegation of hopeful backers.

LASH WINS 10,000-METER AGAIN

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—Between their final game of the regular season next Saturday and their appearance in the Rose Bowl January 2, Southern California's Trojans, champions of the Pacific Coast Conference, have a chance to test the accuracy of sports writers in ranking football teams.

The Trojans play Notre Dame Saturday and meet Duke in the Rose Bowl.

In the final Associated Press football ranking poll of the year, 29 sports writers and editors chose Notre Dame as the nation's No. 1 team with Duke in third place, Texas Christian, which hoped for a Rose Bowl bid, came between them.

Notre Dame was awarded top ranking by 43 voters, T. C. U. drew 23 first-place ballots and Duke 15. Tennessee collected the other four add, fourth place.

Scoring ten points for a first place vote, nine for second, etc., Notre Dame earned the lead, for the third straight week with 823 points to 782 for the Horned Frogs and 733 for Duke.

The first ten (first place votes in brackets, points on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis):

City League Court Schedule At Auditorium
Baltz Pajamas, 21-19 victors over Leonard and Hercules, who have split even in two starts against Leonard and the Knights, clash in the four-star attraction on tonight's City Basketball League bill of fare at the auditorium.

Baltz's must cop this one to keep pace with the league-leading Barmann Brewers, who pace the National league pack with two wins. Hercules, rudely upset last week, need to put this one on the credit side of the scoring ledger to keep in the hotly contested senior loop flag fight.

Baltz's will trot out with a veteran combine of Eddie Bock and "Beans" Baltz up front, Al Bruce in the center slot, and Herbie Clark and Donnie Doyle roaming the back court. Hercules will oppose the sleeping suit boys with Charley Bock and Norm Niles working out of the forward berths. Hank Krum taking the tap and Knute Beichert and Hughie Clark hanging back.

Klinney's Shoes, loser of a 16-14 duel with Barmann, showed plenty of class and loom as favorites to hand the Knights their third straight set-back. Joe Diech's squad has dropped its two starts to date by virtue of an inconsistent scoring attack but may get going tonight to lighten up the pennant race by upsetting the shoe store laddies. Jackie Purvis, Klinney's scoring cog, will

Comforters Trim St. Marys To Cop Church League Lead

The Church Basketball League resumed its schedule last night on the Y. M. C. A. court with three stellar attractions for the fans.

The first game saw a much stronger Redeemer five barely able to defeat the Presbyterians. Up until the Bock brothers entered the game the Presbys had the edge, but these two demons of boards saved the day for the Redeemers, 33-27.

Charley Bock and Al Bruce led the winners with 11 points each. Van Deusen made 10 markers for the Presbys.

In a surprise upset, the First Dutch five trimmed the Clinton Avenue tossers, 25-23, playing inspired ball all evening, especially near the end when the Clintons tried to rally.

Ken Slater led the Dutchmen with four fields, and Whitey Myers took high honors for Clintons with seven.

In the final game of the night, the Comforters hammered out a 19-25 win over St. Mary's five, to top the league lead. It was a hard-fought battle all the way.

Andy Dykes took high scoring honors for the Comforters with 10 points and Bobby Cullum for the Saints with nine.

Interfraternal Games Tonight
The Interfraternal Tournament League will meet tonight at the Vets' Dugout. Dartball and plang-pang are the games scheduled.

Last year the Vets won the championship in the dartball division. The Mechanics and Vets finished the season deadlocked for first place, and in the playoff the Vets won the silver trophy.

The plang-pong championship was won by the Knights of Columbus. The Knights created a new interfraternal tournament record, when they won 12 straight games and finished the season undefeated.

The games this evening will start promptly at 8:30 and will be followed by special refreshments.

The standing of the clubs shows the Elks leading the league in the shuffleboard division. The Knights of Columbus and the Veterans of Foreign Wars are tied for first place in the pocket billiard division.

Stratton, who was at an end today, lost his right leg at the knee.

The operation to check spread or gangrene which threatened Stratton's life, was performed at a Dallas, Tex., hospital yesterday after he had accidentally shot himself while hunting rabbits on his mother's farm at Greenville, Tex.

J. Louis Camiskey, owner of the White Sox and himself ill at home, was broken up over the loss of the gangling youth who had such a promising future.

Washington Five To Play Colonials At the Auditorium

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29 (AP)—Fresh from three straight victories, one over Wilkes-Barre and two over the Troy Haymakers, the Kingston Colonials play the Heurich Brewers, tomorrow night, at the municipal auditorium.

"I'm confident we'll take over the latest additions to the American League," said Manager Barney Sedran of the Colonials, talking about tomorrow's game with the brewers, representing Washington, D. C.

"The Heurichs have a strong lineup," continued Sedran, "and although they have been taking the measure of independent clubs around the capital for several years, I think Kingston's band of cagers will come out on the long end, because our boys are playing heads-up ball."

These two wins over Carlisle and the Heurichs are the reasons Sedran foresees a victory over the Washington cagers. "I am well satisfied with the way my boys are showing up," he said after the Thanksgiving game, "and I know they'll not let me down in that prediction made."

Sedran said at the beginning of the season that the Colonials would be right up around the top just as soon as they played together three or four times.

The Colonials will use their regular lineup against the Heurichs, probably starting Reiser and Fitzpatrick, forwards; Flokel, center; and Frankel and Kaplan, guards. Henrie Kramer and Charlie Johnson will be ready for relief work.

In the lineup of the Heurichs will be Schenfeld, No. 3; Goldfaden, No. 19; Frettleher, No. 6; Kewler, No. 7; Bennie, No. 2; Zahn, No. 3; Wilson, No. 4 and Hargaden, No. 5.

Bennie and Zahn are two of the best players ever developed in Washington. They and their teammates are all college men, having learned the cage game and played it as stars during their college careers.

Enthusiasm Runs High at Duke
Durham, N. C., Nov. 29 (AP)—The thermometer showed it was truly freezing, but the fragrance of roses mingled with football enthusiasm in this tobacco-manufacturing town today.

Until late into the night, Duke students, led by the 60-piece Blue Devil Band, paraded from the University campus through the downtown streets, and the cry was, "On to Pasadena" or "California, Here I Come!"

The Rose Bowl fever hit town about 8:30 last night when word came that Duke would represent the east in the Pasadena classic on January 2.

The celebration was set off by Coach Wallace Wade's brief announcement: "We will accept the bid."

It will be the first "Bowl" game for the Iron Dukes, who finished the season undefeated, unbeaten and unscorered upon, but for Wade it will be the fifth trip to California.

Wade first went to the Rose Bowl as a guard on the Brown University team in 1916. Later, as coach, he carried three Alabama teams to Pasadena.

Wade's teams have never been beaten on the coast.

Lights of New York

By L. L. STEVENSON

Scattered over the lower East Side are numerous small restaurants which are far more than mere eating places. As a matter of fact, they are really neighborhood clubs. Neighbors gather in them to discuss business and other weighty affairs, over cups of coffee. Then there are the card players. In some instances, the games have been going for years. Same players in the same places. On occasions, wives come in and yank husbands home. Usually, however, there is peace except for such arguments as arise in the course of a game. There are chess and checker players also with appreciative galleries. The older generation favors such quiet games. For the youngsters, who may have gray in their hair, there is stuss. Numerous efforts have been made to break up the East Side stuss games but they have come to naught. The gambling is for small stakes but the playing is in earnest.

Evenings, whole families gather in restaurants. After all, space in tenements is limited. Also tenements are lonely. So at tables there is company, if not large space since the tables are packed as closely together as possible. But bumping by hurried waiters doesn't affect the general camaraderie in the slightest. The patrons know the proprietor. In fact they know all employees. There are no rules barring conversations with waiters. So there is exchange of news and views along with coffee, beer and wine. Generally each table has its blue siphon of seltzer. Wine and seltzer is a favorite East Side drink. When the seltzer bottle is empty, it is quietly replaced. But when the wine bottle is empty, the party usually breaks up.

In some of the establishments, patrons furnish their own entertainment. In others, musicians, usually an accordion player, wander about playing the popular airs of the day, their rewards pennies, nickels and dimes contributed when they pass the hat. Some places have floor shows. The performers are either youngsters or old timers. The youngsters of course are full of ambition. The old-timers are those who have had their day and returned to the East Side where they started. On the other hand, there are numerous old-timers who have never appeared anywhere else save in the neighborhood. For the security of steady work among friends, they closed their eyes to the glitter of the lights of Broadway. They have their reward. The East Side is loyal indeed to old friends.

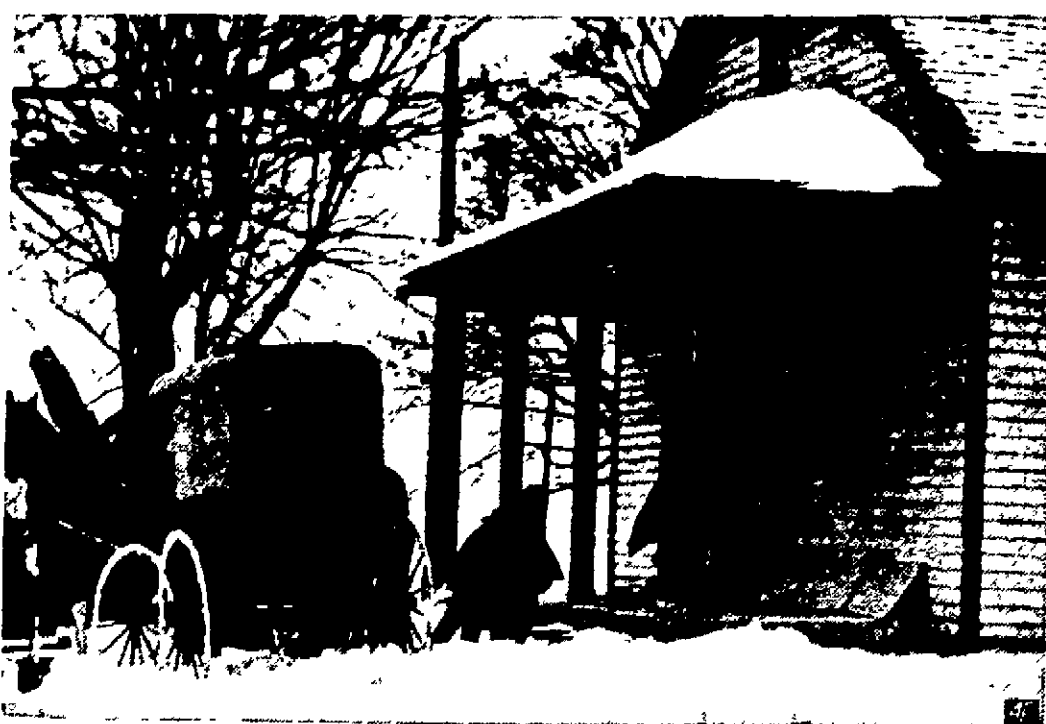

Youngsters give freely of their talents in their performances. In fact, they give everything they have. Far harder do they work than performers in the night spots uptown. Ambition is the cause. Hidden in the chattering crowd of downtown dwellers may be talent scouts. Thus the chance of the big time with its heavy rewards. As records show, the lower East Side has made its full share of contributions to the stage and screen, many now well known having spent their early years down there. So star dust in the eyes of the boys and girls in home-made costumes.

It strikes me that the patrons of those unpretentious establishments away downtown have more fun than do patrons of the fashionable clubs with cover charges and high priced entertainers. If pleased, they applaud loudly. They laugh at jokes. They sway with the music and sing if the notion strikes them. It's a bit noisy. But it's colorful and natural. Also inexpensive. A proprietor who dared to put on a cover charge would soon find himself out of business. A dollar and a quarter for a heavy table d'hôte dinner is high. And the best steak I've eaten in New York was served with one of those $15 dinners.

Subway eavesdropping: "If he ain't a phoney, then a dime store gold ring won't turn green."

AMISH WIN THEIR SCHOOL FIGHT

Here's pictorial proof that Pennsylvania's picturesque Amish have won their fight against modern consolidated schools. It shows Amish children entering their own one-room country school for the first session permitted under a special act of the state legislature, giving the sect the right to operate their school. Having just arrived in the Amish wagon the children are entering the old Horseshoe Pike school near Lancaster, Pa. It was one of 10 abandoned by the East Lampeter township school board when a big new building was completed, partially with WPA funds. The Amish leased the building shown above. The frugal rural folk first objected to the big school on grounds that the WPA loans used to finance it were contrary to their religious beliefs.

BPW Men Give Wrist Watch to Chris Heiselman

After working all night directing the removal of snow from the city's streets, Superintendent Chris Heiselman was "watched" by his fellow employees when they knocked off work at 7 o'clock this morning when they presented him with a handsome wrist watch as a slight token of the esteem in which he is held.

The presentation was made by Assistant Superintendent Max Oppenheimer on behalf of the men, and the ceremony took place in the municipal garage where the men gathered before leaving for their homes.

Wednesday is the last day that Mr. Heiselman will serve the city as superintendent and on Thursday he will report on the New York city water works project at Lackawack as an engineering inspector.

When the late Harvey Roosa, superintendent of the Board of Public Works, was stricken with the illness that led later to his death, Mr. Heiselman was named acting superintendent and shortly after Mr. Roosa's death the board appointed Mr. Heiselman as superintendent.

Schilling Given De Molay Honor

A large audience of friends and members of the Colonial Chapter Order of DeMolay were present last evening at the impressive ceremony given when the Degree of Chevalier was bestowed upon Francis J. Schilling, Jr., of 39 Emerson street, at the Masonic Lodge Rooms, on Wall street.

The ceremony included the Crossing of the Swords by the Guard of Honor while Mr. Schilling was being decorated with the ring emblematic of his high rank in the Order, and presented with the diploma. Another stirring feature in connection with this ceremony was the placing of the Cordons and Medallion around Mr. Schilling's neck by his mother.

A large delegation of DeMolay members from the Queen City Chapter in Poughkeepsie was present for the ceremony.

The audience was further favored with an interesting speech given by E. P. Bookwalter, of the Y. M. C. A.

The special music in connection with the ceremony was rendered by Paul Zucca and his orchestra.

At the conclusion refreshments were served, and flowers presented to the parents.

Santa Asks Children To Write Their Letters

Santa Claus sent out word today that all children in the city who are planning to write him a letter this year should do so at once and have the letter in the mail by Wednesday night.

So far some 200 children in the city have written the patron saint of childhood. Letters should be addressed to "Santa Claus, City Hall, Kingston, N. Y."

In writing Santa Claus the children should be sure to write their names and address plainly and also give their age.

December 1 is the dead line for writing letters to the jolly old fellow. Each letter received will be checked by the Social Service Exchange and the Public Welfare Department of the city.

Court Will Open Monday Morning

The December trial term of Supreme Court will be convened at the court house Monday next at 11 o'clock at which time a trial and grand jury will be in attendance.

Justice Sydney F. Foster will preside. There are 232 cases on the civil calendar of which 23 are preferred causes. The increased number of cases at this term is due partially to the fact that there was no trial term of Supreme Court in Ulster county in October. The term in December will be the first trial term here since last May.

The successful county chairman in the counties where the annual President's Ball is held each January, will be requested by the National Foundation to assist in the establishment of local county chapters. Mayor Heiselman in commenting on the new plan expressed his approval of the plan, and the fact that half of the proceeds raised annually at the President's Ball will be retained by each local chapter to treat local cases of infantile paralysis.
